

ANT HILL COMMUNITY ADMISSIONS

In completing the following questions, keep in mind what is necessary to initialize and fulfill the objectives of the Ant Hill Community. Your interest is honored; your involvement is necessary to achieve the objectives. As participants grow, the community grows.

Keep focus on what we want a new civilization to look like and forget the judgments about what is or is not right with today's society. The purpose of this brief questionnaire is not to exclude anyone. We are seeking to determine the entry level of each resident. All interested parties are invited to meet face to face to discuss residency. Upon the common open consent and affirmation of each other for residency, the community commences. Refer to the Ant Hill Community doc overview of intent/purpose.

What is your financial status? Are you in debt? If so would those debts restrict you from community labors? In that we are to be currency free with surplus for assisting others, the beginning state is that the community is part of a larger community that is structured by currencies, and such must be considered in our stages of development and leadership to a Value Orientation system apart from currencies.

What thoughts have you weighed as to transcending into an immortal state? What Numbers and their corresponding Thoughts are necessary to reside in a state of immortality?

The Ant Hill Community model pertains largely to the teachings and the care of them within each resident, similar to the way that ants care for the plants. The care of trees, meaning the care of the narratives and the teachings is part of our mission, whereby all peoples may be fed truth/affirmations of Reúwch/Spirit and make progressions as the branches of the mind unfold. Ants care for the earth/spaces and the roots of the plants in some ways. With regard to a society that corresponds to the “ant community,” one thing that is found to be true of ants is that one ant does not hold power/exaltment over others. All ants within the community understand their place and assist one another without question or resistance. Ants sacrifice themselves as “bridges” in order to carry their comrades.

It is important to know that no matter which position one holds in the community, we need to understand that it is a position of service to one another. The ants, as well as other insects, animals, and trees understand this. The Collective Consciousness is spreading amongst humanity also, which is the unified kingdom of peace.

There are “right actions”; that correspond to “right reasons”. The reasons and the actions are necessary to evaluate each activity of the community. The initial properties of the community will include 13531 US Hwy 24 E, New Haven, IN; expected occupation mid September 2008.

The Board of Directors approved that the corporation is supportive of the Ant Hill Communiites. The Governing Body of the Ant Hill Communities is comprised of those that oversee the Community. Those of the Governing Body assist to guide the Community, and manage the reins for all areas of the communities. Counselors are also appointed to provide perspectives and review directives of the Communities.

The Ant Hill Communities are governed internally by consensus. All members and associates have representation, as everyone is investing their lives and talents unto the Collective dwelling. Those not living in the communities, yet investing or donating are members by completing the application process and by being involved in one of the four levels associated with the Community, whereby their voice is represented. The four levels are 1) full-time resident members; 2) part-time resident members; 3) advocates and counselors, and 4) sponors. All participants have representation at all meetings of the Ant Hill Communities.
