Welcome to all who pass by this Way....

With pleasure we embrace your path to connect to ours. The scope of information on pages contains the origins of the Kuwahnim—serving illuminators and their Teachings. We are collectively indebted to the hands that have contributed to make this site available. You will note levels of Understanding upon these pages as the material has spanned a decade and more. However, the threads woven are from one level to another to abide peaceably together in one fabrique.

The Understanding of the Word base of Numbers of HhaKuwahnim, have brought clarity to how words are read. The purity of the tongue is of utmost importance, not only in how a word or thought is rendered or translated, but the level of Intelligence in which it is uttered. The vibrations—the sounds and frequencies of the Letters correspond to the Numbers that are within them. A foundation to receive the Numbers and the Letters is laid first in order that the ears are attuned to their Voice. Your eyes first beheld the Letters and their foundational Numbers to enable you to listen more intently to the Words of our ALhhim.

On the site are various ways that a word is spelled or rendered in the translations, from common usage in our world to the current awareness of rendering a Word by the perfect ratios. In beholding these renderings or spellings of the words one notes how a thought is being carried or transmitted through the Letters and sounds. We aim to render the thoughts with letters that equate to their inherent numerical values, keeping in mind that the use of the foreign letters in the vernacular tongues perish with the world. Therefore, the focus is to on the Invisible Numerical Thoughts which have no end, as they appear as myriad formulations in HhaALhhim. Hence, as you scan and delve into the pages of information, allow the thoughts of Light to ride above the forms in which they are carried, lest the forms catch the eye and the heart fails to connect to the truth being conveyed. If you are interested in word formations and spellings, I suggest that you consult the first part of the Teúwrah/Torah Dictionary for further elaboration to grasp a better Understanding on the developments within the Midrash in how a Thought of HhaTeúwrah/The Torah is being carried in these forms of communications.

Some of the earlier documents were transcribed from audio tapes. Those who were present during the recordings of these tapes made comments during the recordings. The comments of those present express the level of their perception and orientation to the delivery, which may or may not coincide with the thoughts being presented. The transcriber of the audio tapes attempted to distinguish the voice of those speaking on the tape; however, this has not been perceived, and has caused some questions as to the teachings coming from the Midrash. As resources permit, these notes will be clarified or deleted.

There are some who appropriate significant portions of Bet HaShem documents without permission, injecting their own ideas into the teachings without properly distinguishing between what originated within the Midrash and their own thoughts. This practice is confusing and unlawful. Although it would be unseemly for the Midrash to litigate against such exploitation, it is nevertheless prudent to warn visitors to this site that unauthorized plagiarism of BHM material has been a disruptive challenge for many years.

The authentic Bet HaShem teachings are posted on this website. Midrash teachings are complex and highly nuanced; and rogue distortions of those teachings misrepresent the Midrash, discourage those who might be strengthened by encountering authentic Midrash teachings firsthand, and are harmful to those persisting in such practices, even after repeatedly being asked not to do so.

The site, Crowndiamond.org, accurately reflects the foundational teachings of the Midrash without plagiarism. Those BHM materials available on that site are with permission. Best regards in your pursuit of the Ancient Paths.
